Freeze Efforts

One Stop Assistance Centers to Remain Open on President's Day Holiday

Sacramento – Due to the continuing demand for aid and services from workers and employers affected by this winter's freeze conditions, the One Stop assistance centers designated by Governor Schwarzenegger will remain open in some of the hardest hit areas on the President's Day holiday, Monday, February 19.

"The impact from January's harsh winter weather is continuing to unfold, affecting thousands of workers who are in dire need of everything from food and rental assistance to help in filing for Unemployment Insurance benefits and searching for new job opportunities," said Victoria Bradshaw, Secretary of the California Labor and Workforce Development Agency. "That's why it's imperative that we make staff available to lend a hand during this difficult time."

Holiday hours will vary from center to center, but customers can expect to find assistance with some of the centers' essential programs and services such as help with completing paperwork or internet filing for Unemployment Insurance benefits, developing and posting a resume, and searching for employment and training opportunities provided by staff from the California Employment Development Department and its partners. Additionally, referrals and information will be available for other programs.

NOTE: A list of the locations, hours, and phone numbers of the centers remaining open on February 19 is attached.
